The Grand-Jury Returns Seven Bills Against Michael Forestel.

The Ex-Treasurer Found Guilty of Embezzling Public Money.

HE IS ARRESTED AND FURNISHES BOND IN THE SUM OF $16,000.

The Witnesses Who Appeared Against Forestel--The Amounts Which He Is Accused of Embezzling--Our Mechanic, Gus Eisman and Chas. F. Vogel Become Mr. Forestel's Sureties--The Grand-Jury's Final Report.

The Criminal Grand-Jury made its final report in the Criminal Court this morning and returned seven indictments against ex-City Treasurer Michael Forestel. He is charged in them with embezzling public money.

At 11:30 a.m. to-day the jury fled into the Criminal Court, accompanied by Assistant Circuit Attorney Jesse McDonald, and took seats in the jury-box. Judge Edmunds was listening to an argument in a case before the court, and as soon as the argument was completed the Judge turned towards the Grand-Jury. Mr. McDonald stood up, and addressing the court said that the Grand-Jury wished to make its final report. Foreman Gibson arose from his chair and advanced towards the Judge's bench and presented a bundle of papers to the court without making any report. Judge Edmunds, after looking over the papers, turned to the members of the Grand-Jury and in a few words thanked them for their service and commanded them for the result of their work. He then discharged them.

The report of the Grand-Jury is the shortest that has ever been presented in the Criminal Court. Evidently the jury which was discharged to-day resolved to depart from the custom of Grand-Juries, and speak rather by action than by long-winded reports. The report is as follows:

A BRIEF REPORT.

St. Louis, Feb. 18, 1893.

To the Hon. Henry L. Edwards, Judge of the St. Louis Criminal Court:

The Grand-Jury for the January term, 1893, respectfully report that we have examined the evidence and considered the matters brought to our attention, and have returned ninety-six bills and have ignored eight bills.

We inspected the jail and found it apparently well kept, but the roof, planks and floor were in a bad state of repair and should receive immediate attention.

In conclusion we wish to command the very intelligent and conscientious manner in which the Assistant Circuit Attorney, Mr. McDonald, has conducted the business of the State, also to acknowledge his uniform courtesy during our session. John G. Godwin, M. Evans, J. W. Wall, John J. O'Farrell, J. E. F. Fokler, H. H. Himes, J. D. Thompson, and Louis Grun.

Twelve true bills accompanied the report. One was against Miss Winter, who was robbing in a drug store, another was against W. D. Harrison, charging fraud, and a third against Sis Polk, charging her with being accessory to the same. The bond in the first indictment was $10,000 and it was $1,000 in each of the other six, the same sureties going on each indictment.

INDICTMENT AND WITNESSES.

The indictments charge the ex-Treasurer with embezzling the following amounts on the dates named:

April, 1891, $20,000.

May, 1891, $20,000.

August, 1891, $26,000.

September, 1891, $16,000.

October, 1891, $16,000.

June, 1892, $24,000.

September, 1892, $2,000.

It is not known that Forestel's embezzlement amounts to the sum total of these amounts. He is alleged, however, to have extracted from the City Treasury on various dates sums amounting to $16,000, which he has, however, paid back to the treasury in the same degree. Two indictments returned against persons not in the city were not given to the press.

INDICTMENT AND WITNESSES.

The indictments charge that the ex-Treasurer was not made public because the ex-Treasurer was not under arrest, it being the rule of the court that no indictment or information in jail shall be given to the press.

This is done so as not to throw any obstacles in the way of the authorities in effecting the arrest of the indicted parties who are not in jail. If the fact of their indictment is published the men may leave the city to their arms, and the ex-Treasurer would undoubtedly stand by them. The present instance, as it was known that the ex-Treasurer would undoubtedly stand by them, however, the present instance, as it was known that the ex-Treasurer would undoubtedly stand by them, the ex-Treasurer would undoubtedly stand by them.

In conclusion we wish to command the very intelligent and conscientious manner in which the Assistant Circuit Attorney, Mr. McDonald, has conducted the business of the State, also to acknowledge his uniform courtesy during our session. Weather forecast for thirty-six hours, beginning at 8 a. m. to-day: For Missouri: Fair; northwesterly winds, becoming variable; stationary temperature, followed by warmth on Sunday.

The storm which was central yesterday in the Lower Mississippi Valley has moved northward, and is now central off the New England Coast. Snow, in many places heavy, has fallen from Missouri eastward to the coast, and north from the Ohio River. East of the Mississippi the temperature has fallen somewhat, while to the west the changes in temperature have been slight and the weather fair.

Forecast for St. Louis and vicinity: Fair, warmer Sunday.

For Governor of the speculative territory of Hawaii—ex-Prince Russell.

IT is very evident that Gov. Lewelling of Kansas never read the life of Ben Butler.

THE present administration has revised Davy Crockett. "Be sure you are wrong, then go ahead."

SECRETARY FOSTER may be pardoned for paraphrasing the Iron Duke: "O that Carlisle or March would come!"

HENRY VILLARD will not be Secretary of the Interior, but he seems to be very much a favorite.

QUEEN LILLI has a right to call President Harrison her "great and good friend," for he has not granted her a pension of $20,000 a year?

THE Legislature can easily remove all doubt as to the power of the city to put electric wires under ground by adopting the Stone bill.

WHEN the Russian fleet sails into Hampton Roads to celebrate Christopher Columbus, the Russian refugees in America can be hustled aboard, to be returned to their native land.

ALL the Hawaiian movements have been characterized by suspicious haste. The danger to the speculators lies in giving Congress and the people time for reflection and investigation.

MR. CLEVELAND's choice of J. Sterling Morton for the Secretaryship of Agriculture indicates that he proposes to have in his Cabinet representatives of all interests—even the corporations.

WITH Gresham at one end of the council table and J. Sterling Morton at the other, the Cleveland Cabinet is likely to resemble that of Washington when Hamilton and Jefferson glared at one another.

SOME good may come of the trouble in Kansas. The issue of the struggle may be such a reorganization of the militia as will disarray the Santa Fe Railway and deprive corporations of their military power.

A NAVAL officer says that there are 30,000 cases of leprosy in the United States. When Hawaii is annexed these cheerful figures will be increased. "Room for the leper" is the motto of our State Department.

THE European tomfoolery of pretending that cholera is not cholera has been carried on at Marseilles just as it was at Hamburg. When the germs arrive in the United States it is to be hoped that there may be no useless concealment.

PERHAPS Mrs. Lease simply molded bullets for the Populists and did not, therefore, appear as conspicuously as if she had taken the lead. As matters turned out, however, the Populists fired their bullets nor the Republicans.

A DEMOCRATIC Senator declares that it will be beneath his dignity to ask the next Secretary of State for consuls, because that gentleman is not a Democrat. Judge Graham will no doubt be very grateful for such kindly manifestations of dignity.

QUEEN LILLI, on the annexation of her islands, expects a pension from the United States. As she is not a member of the G. A. R., we cannot very well grant her. Mr. Harrison will the pension distributors to be liberal with the boys, but he said nothing about the girls.

Mr. Cowdon's bill to change the name of the United States of America to the United States of the Earth was doubtless suggested by the Hawaiian scheme. The Hawaiian scheme is not a great idea itself, but if it has put this great idea into the head of Mr. Cowdon the country ought to be satisfied.

It is rather amusing that so many Republican journals are calling upon the Democrats to reform the tariff. It bodes good to our commerce. The tariff will certainly be reformed, and doubtless in a way that will please all Republicans and all Democrats who have the good of their country at heart.

The sugar exportation from Hawaii amounts to about 120,000 tons a year. Of this Spreckels ships 100,000 tons or 200,000,000 pounds. With a bounty of 3 cents a pound American citizenship would be worth $4,000,000 a year to him, to say nothing of the blessed privilege of pointing to "Old Glory" as his flag.

It is reported from Jefferson City that the Underground Wire Committee of the Senate has concluded that the wires should go under ground, but is in doubt as to the power of the city to force them under. The best authorities concur in the opinion that the city has not this power, but the very fact that the committee has a doubt on the subject should be sufficient ground for recommending legislation to that end.

THE WATER SUPPLY QUESTION.

Before the Council acts upon the Mayor's recommendation for the building of temporary pumps at Chain of Rocks it should enter into a careful investigation of all possible plans by which the purity of our water supply may be secured. The shortness of the time in which to guard against the consequences of impure water during the approaching summer is the strongest reason for prudent deliberation to avoid a blunder which, under the circumstances, would be irreparable and disastrous.

The costliness of any work to the desired end is a small matter as compared with the essential points of speed and efficiency, and the cost should be considered only as a determining factor between two plans otherwise of equal value. There are strong objections to the plan recommended, one at least of which should relegate it to the place of last resort. It is admitted that the summer will be half gone before the temporary pumps will be in working order, and any danger we are to fear from a plague visitation is likely to come previous to that time. Its costliness is therefore an added objection to others of greater moment.

On the other hand a plan was suggested in yesterday's Post-DISPATCH which appears to meet all the requirements of the situation. It was indorsed at first glance by such eminent authority as Col. Flad, ex-President of the B. P. I., and Mr. McMechan, ex-Sewer Commissioner. The friends of sound reform should get together for good legislation on this subject.

THE Philadelphia Times thinks that because only one murderer in sixty-three in the United States is justly punished, the public mind is averse to the abolition of capital punishment. This may be true. In one or two States capital punishment has been abolished, and statistics from those States on the increase of murder there, as compared with the increase elsewhere, would be interesting. There are some people who suppose that many murderers escape the gallows because of sentimental juries. If these juries come from the people and represent public sentiment, there must be considerable opposition to capital punishment.

There are some people who suppose that many murderers escape the gallows because of sentimental juries. If these juries come from the people and represent public sentiment, there must be considerable opposition to capital punishment.

The defeat of the Deering bill opens the way for the introduction of a bill in which the needed provision for the establishment of Boards of Excise Commissioners and other important changes will be instituted without undue interference in local affairs.

The friends of sound reform should get together for good legislation on this subject.

THE PRICE OF LIFE.

The bill now before the Illinois Legislature, repealing the $5,000 limit in damages for loss of life, should be duplicated in the Missouri Legislature.

In cases of bodily injury the jury is permitted to fix the amount of damages, which is ascertained by the loss of earning power.

And when the ready lawyer has prepared the papers and everything seems to be promising, the client declares that he is without means and that the lawyer will have to lend him $5 until something is realized from the blotted corporation. The case appears to be so clear that the lawyer promptly hands over the money, whereupon the client goes on his way rejoicing and is seen no more.

Mr. Cowdon's bill providing that everybody shall work only four hours a day and be paid $1 an hour is entitled in advance of the time, but it will be received with indifference outside of Congress. A few world employers may "kick," but the great majority of employers will give it their unqualified approval and support. Less work and more pay will always be a popular scheme.

The Boston street railway company that proposes to do business in every State of the Union and every Territory, and in all places in Canada, in Great Britain and Ireland, in France and in the Argentine Republic, does not profess to want the earth, but when it gets control of the street railways in all these places it may consider the adjacent areas.

It is matter for rejoicing that the threatened duel between Memphis editors is off. It is useless for journals to attempt to mold public opinion against the code while journalists themselves go forth to stay. The courage of our "molders" is so well known that no test of it on the dueling ground is necessary.

Now if the average earnings of the average man can measure a just limit of liability for damages in case of fatal accidents, why not in the case of disabling accidents?

In the Western Union Telegraph office at Louisville a colony of rats was brought in to exterminate a horde of rats. The rats have driven out the house-sparrows now in great numbers.

What Mr. Cleveland thinks of it, and the executors in order to secure her estate.

SNEAKED after Cleveland's election R. J. Lowry, an Atlanta banker, called to congratulate him and met Mrs. Cleveland, whom the Georgia quotes as saying: "No matter what Mr. Cleveland thinks of it, Adam and I are going to use the ax."

It is a jury can be trusted to compute and award actual damages in the one case, why not in the other? If the Judge can be trusted to disallow excessive damages in the case of a prosperous professional man temporarily disabled why not in a case where a fatal accident has deprived a mother and half a dozen helpless children of their only support?

This thing of setting a fixed price by statute upon each human life is a return to the wretched custom of barbaric times in Germany. Such a thing was unknown in our law till railroad attorneys began to boss our legislatures. The retention of any such limit on our statutes is a mockery of justice and a disgrace to any legislature.

When railway companies are made to understand that human life is not the cheapest thing in the market there will be fewer accidents. As the law stands it is cheaper to pay for an occasional life lost than to incur the expense of proper safeguards. A corporation which is said to have no soul has a conscience in its treasury which becomes very lively when touched. If juries be permitted to fix the damages in each particular case it will result not only in raising the amount to a just figure, but will make prevention less costly than preventable accidents.

The zeal with which the agents of the Provisional Government are urging immediate action is of itself suspicious. They make a purely ex parte statement of facts, and are over-anxious that they be accepted and a decisive and irrevocable step taken before those who have hitherto owned and governed the islands have an opportunity to controvert them.

It would be an act of outrageous folly to precipitate annexation and complicate this country under such conditions. There is no parallel in all our history either for annexation or for the methods adopted to effect it.

Mr. Harrison's Administration cannot go out in a "blaze of glory" through any snap decision ratification of the conspiracy to seize Hawaii.

Let Us Know the Facts.

From the Chicago Herald.

Implicit reliance is not to be placed upon the good faith of an embassy fresh from the sugar king of the Pacific slope. The incoming Administration should be given an opportunity to investigate the subject. Moreover, it would hardly be in accordance with the American idea of popular government to allow the islands without affording the people an opportunity to say whether they want to be annexed.

It does not appear that the pending bill makes any provision whatever for that. It is understood that only the provisional government is to be consulted about it. Mr. MacFarlane has asserted that not 5 percent of the population are in favor of annexation.

In fairness and justice we ought to find out whether this is true. A provisional government, established by force, and a foreign power at that, and representing only a small minority of the people, has no moral right to give the islands to the United States. Let us know the truth first and act afterward.

Identification Necessary.

From the Kansas City Star.

Minister Stevens, who has set up a son of American protectors in Hawaii on his own hook, acts so much like a Kansas man that it seems proper to state that he is from Maine.
